Introduction

The MRX-2 Network Base Station allows for control of your components by sending infrared and serial commands to your system. This base station can be used with either a Total Control or a Complete Control system.

When used in a Total Control System:

Expand zones throughout the home or commercial space by installing multiple MRX-2’s.

Control equipment such as shades and TV lifts using the base stations sensors, relays and RS-232 ports.

Control URC RF Lighting using the optional RFTX-1 transmitter.

When used in a Complete Control System:

The MRX-2 is required to use the CC Control App for iOS devices, like the iPad and iPhone.

Extend control to other rooms by installing multiple MRX-2’s throughout the home or commercial space.

The MRX-2 offers traditional IR only control from compatible URC MX series remotes via an optional RFX-250.
Features and Benefits

When used in a Total Control System:

Expand Control: Add an MRX-2 to a Total Control system to expand control to other rooms/areas in the home or office. Components located out of reach from the MRX Advanced Network System Controller may be controlled via IR, RS-232 or Relays by using an MRX-2 to expand the scope of a Total Control system.

Lighting Control: By connecting an optional RFTX-1 RF Transmitter, take control of your URC lighting (within range). Control a specific light, a whole room or even the entire home from any remote control or iOS device.

When used in a Complete Control System:

Enables iOS Control: The addition of an MRX-2 base station to a control system, allows for control via URC’s CC Control iOS app for iPads, iPhones and iPod touch. Each iDevice requires programming by a qualified custom install professional.

Note: Requires the purchase of CC Control Setup code (one code per system).

No Aiming: Using a base station results in flawless control of your components without having to aim the remote! The signal travels to the base station via RF or Wi-Fi and is then converted back to infrared before being sent to the device being controlled; perfect for hidden components.

Note: An optional RFX-250 Antenna is required for use with URC remote controls.
The MRX-2 Network Base Station includes:

1 - MRX-2 Network Base Station
1 - 12V-1000mA Power Supply
6 - Visible Emitters with 10 foot plug in cables including 1 pink sleeved emitter for the RFTX-1 port
1 - Two Meter 3.5mm Stereo to 3.5mm Stereo (for daisy chaining multiple MRX-2 with one RFX-250)
1 - Adjustment Tool
1 - Mounting Plate for wall mounting the MRX-2
Front
The front panel consists of 4 indicator lights which will illuminate when in use.

Power: Illuminates when the power supply is connected to an outlet.
Status: Flashes blue when an RF or Network signal is received.
Sensor: Illuminates to indicate when the sensor is activated.
Ethernet: Illuminates when connected to an active network.
Reset: Press the Reset button located under the MRX-2 to restart the unit.
Rear

The rear panel ports are:

Power: Uses the included 12V/1Amp power supply.

LAN: Plug an ethernet cable (RJ45) to the LAN(Local Area network).

Relay NO, NC, COM: Configurable switch closure control.

RS-232 Ports: Two RS232 ports provide direct control.

Sensor: Connect with one of URC’s or compatible third party, sensors.

IR IN: Allows MRX-2 control from a base station such as a MRF-260.

Note: IR Routing is lost from commands received from this input.

IR Outputs: Connect emitters for IR control of connected devices.

RFTX Port: Dual port #6 for the RFTX-1 connecting cable or included sleeved IR emitter.

RF IN: Connects to an optional single RFX-250 (Only for MX series products.)

RF Out: Used for daisy chaining MRX-2s for RF Operation (Refer to the RFX-250 manual.)

RF ID: 15 unique RF ID's provide RF control and routing to multiple MRX-2's in the same home.

Note: DO NOT USE RF ID #0, as it is the interference "sniffer", used to detect RF interference in the area.
Network Installation

The MRX-2 can be installed in either a Total Control or a Complete Control System. Connect the Ethernet cable (RJ45) to the rear of the MRX-2 and the other end to the active network.
